He pressed the enter button and waited.

He wasn't sure what was in the file he was forwarding, but he couldn't ignore the urgent message insisting he send it to as many people as possible or grave misfortune would fall upon him and his family.

He watched the upload bar populate, fill, then blink 'File Done'.

Less than ten seconds later his email inbox was filled to capacity with responses and replies. He opened them one by one and quickly realized his mistake.

"So that's what a chain letter does," God said, pissed off and feeling like a common sucker.
