Being punched in the taint just ain't no fun. Sure, it's not as bad as getting punched in the balls or having a fist jammed up your ass, but getting punched in the taint is pretty bad.

There's no reason I bring this up other than to try to cut the boredom of being trapped in my own mind. Of course, being trapped in my brainpan ain't as bad as being dead, but it still sucks.

I can see everything, feel everything, hear everything. But I am no longer in control. Not sure who is.

You know what else sucks?
